UNICEF Australia is voluntary funded & rely on as much support from the public as possible to enable us to continue our life saving work in the field.

We work exclusively with children and their families in over 190 countries and territories, empowering them to survive and thrive from early childhood through to adolescence.